

Morehouse Quality Woodworking

In High School, I developed my interest working with wood. In my senior year I had four periods in woodshop, design and construction classes. I built my own furniture in my senior year including a glass top oak coffee table, an entertainment center, and a pair of octagon shaped speakers, preparing for the day I moved out of my parents' home.

In my young adult years, I worked in sawmills eventually working my way up to quality assurance in a custom cedar sawmill. I was able to modify and design a few custom cedar products and oversee the processes to make sure we were able to utilize the wood in the best products possible. In addition, I was able to take some mill ends and low-grade product home to work with.

When my career changed, I continued to do woodworking as a creative outlet by remodeling homes and building cedar planters to sell, as gifts to friends/family and donations to non-profit auctions. I still to this day buy cedar from the same mill I worked at 22 years ago.

This year I took the step to get a business license for my woodworking and joined the Lake Stevens Chamber to support an organization that is very valuable to small businesses in the local area. My first and foremost commitment and passion is Sherwood Community Services which is also a Lake Stevens Chamber Member. The Lake Stevens Chamber has been a lifeline at times, has helped me build strong relationships in the community, and to network with other business owners and community members.

My woodworking is a hobby and creative outlet which has definitely evolved over the past year with the amount of time spent at home during COVID. Now that I have a real dedicated woodshop space, I have enjoyed branching out and making some creative designs with live edge slabs. I have created a Facebook page to share my love for woodworking with anyone who is interested and to possibly find good homes for some of my creations.

I offer creative, one of a kind furniture and a full line of cedar planters that will be available in Spring. Most of the furniture is finished with epoxy resin with a high gloss finish. I also make charcuterie boards and am willing to provide custom live edge mantles. I am not interested in taking on large custom jobs as I do have a full-time job. Currently I have a good supply of cedar, maple and black walnut to work with.
